Throne Debate Ends

4 Motions Are Rejected As House Gives Approval To Legislative Program

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—The House of Commons last night placed its approval on the principle of family allowances and other legislative measures outlined in the Speech from the Throne when by a vote of 146-21, it adopted the customary address in reply to the speech.

During the debate four amendments and sub-amendments were rejected.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Work on the Alaskan Highway has been completed and construction on the Canal Oil projects "practically finished," the U.S. War department announced today.

Because of near-completion of all army construction in northwest Canada and the changed tactical situation, the northwest division of the Corps of Engineers has been consolidated with the Northwest Service Command.

The announcement did not enlarge on the tactical situation. It was assumed the Army believes any danger of Japanese attack along the North Pacific coast has been eliminated.

Brig-Gen. Ludson D. Worham, northwest division engineer, who has been in immediate charge of army construction in Northwest Canada, succeeds Brig-Gen. James A. O'Connor as commanding general of the Northwest Service Command. O'Connor's new assignment has not been announced.

Possibility of Italian Reverses May Prolong War

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today we are witnessing the possibility of terrible reverses in Italy that may prolong the war not for days or months but for years.

Presumably this statement, made to Canadian Congress of Labor delegates who interviewed him, was in reference to the heavy fighting at the Anglo-American beachhead south of Rome.

F.D.R. to Speak

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will broadcast from 2:30 to 3 p.m. M.D.T., Saturday, the White House said yesterday. The speech will be made in connection with ceremonies of presenting under lend-lease to the French naval authorities a destroyer-escort.

$150,000 Blaze

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Damage estimated at $150,000 was caused last night by a fire which gutted the two-story building of Shaffer's department store, on Rideau street in downtown Ottawa.

Six Others Charged

Charles Chaplin is Indicted In Conspiracy Against Girl

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Charles Chaplin, white-haired and 54, and a dominant figure in the motion picture industry for the last 31 years, was indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury on charges of violating the Mann Act and defrauding 23-year-old Joan Berry, his former protegee, of her civil rights.

The jury also returned indictments, charging criminal conspiracy only, in connection with Miss Berry's arrest last summer in Beverly Hills on a vagrancy warrant, against six others. They are: Capt. W. W. White of the Beverly Hills police department; Police Judge Charles Griffin of Beverly Hills; Robert Arden, radio commentator and friend of Chaplin; Thomas Wells (Tim) Durant, movie producer, and associate of the comedian; Lieut. Claude Marple of the Beverly Hills police; Jessie Billie Reno, Beverly Hills police matron. Chaplin could not be reached last night for comment but his attorney, Jerry Geisler, said he would surrender Monday to the United States marshal.

TWO OTHERS REJECTED

A C.C.F. sub-amendment was defeated earlier in the debate and last night two others went the same way before the rejection of the Progressive Conservative motion. They were those of J. S. Roy (Ind., Gaspe) criticizing the government for failure to limit

B.C. House Lowers Auto License Fees

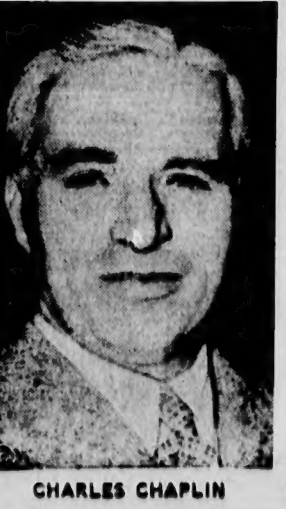

VICTORIA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—The British Columbia legislature gave final approval yesterday to a bill amending the Motor Vehicle Act to authorize a 20 per cent reduction in cost of 1944 passenger automobile licences. The throne speech said the reduction was made because of decreased travelling as a result of gasoline rationing. The bill will be put into force Friday through royal assent. The B.C. motor licence year begins March 1.

Budapest Warned To Expect Raids

LONDON, Feb. 11.—(CP)—The Moscow radio warned last night that Budapest is next on the Russians' bombing list and asserted it would "share the fate of Helsinki" if Hungary continues to fight. The broadcast added: "The Germans are unable to protect their own cities and cannot help their satellites."

24 Persons Killed In Airliner Crash

MEMPHIS, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Twenty-four persons lost their lives when an American airlines transcontinental plane crashed into the Mississippi river last midnight. U.S. Army Engineers started raising sections of the giant plane shortly before noon today but lifting of the section carrying the passengers was delayed until arrival of heavier salvage equipment.

Capture Ukraine Rail Junction of Shepetovka

Russians Gain Footholds Behind Nazi Lines

By ROBERT MUSEL

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Russian troops have captured the Ukrainian rail junction of Shepetovka and 350 miles to the southeast have crossed the Dnieper river estuary to establish bridgeheads behind imperiled German lines, Moscow and Berlin reported late today.

Premier Josef Stalin issued an order of the day announcing the capture of Shepetovka, rail hub 20 miles east of the pre-war Polish border. In a sweeping drive toward the Dniester river defence line.

Simultaneously a Nazi commentator reported the Soviet breakthrough in the area of Kherson near the mouth of the Dnieper. He conceded that the Russians had seized footholds behind the German lines above the river and hinted at a Nazi withdrawal in saying that the Red army thrusts had been contained so that they "cannot endanger German movements."

FRONTAL ATTACK

Units of Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's 1st Ukrainian army stormed and captured Shepetovka by frontal attack, after having swung west and south of the town to cut off its communications.

Vatutin's thrust appeared to be headed directly down the railway line toward Tarnopol, more than 70 miles to the southwest. Capture of that town would cut the last railroad trunk line still open to the German armies inside the Dnieper bend.

Stalin ordered a salute of 12 salutes to be fired by Moscow's 124 victory guns tonight in tribute to Vatutin's forces.

42 Below Zero In North Dakota

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Temperatures plummeted to 42 degrees below zero in North Dakota today as winter's most severe cold wave struck a wide section of the mid-western United States in the wake of heavy snowfall.

Temperatures in North and South Dakota were the lowest in the cold wave belt, the weather bureau reported, with no readings in the two states above the 10 below zero mark today.

Most sections of Nebraska and Minnesota also reported sub-zero readings, while in Indiana, Illinois and Michigan temperatures were above the zero mark.

Province Needs Authority For Reconstruction

While post-war rehabilitation and reconstruction is a much-discussed topic today, until the Dominion government can reconstruct the basic industry of agriculture or give provincial governments the necessary authority to handle this task efficiently, all talk of reconstruction of other industries is futile, David A. Ure, Social Credit M.L.A. for Red Deer, declared in the Legislature Friday afternoon.

Mr. Ure, who took his seat Thursday, was delivering his maiden address as an M.L.A., and was moving the reply to the Speech from the Throne. His motion was seconded by S. A. Berg, Social Credit M.L.A. for Alexandria.

"The restrictions of our present financial system prohibit any effective post-war effort," said Mr. Ure. "As long as taxation and borrowing constitute our only source of revenue, most of this national scale planning in agriculture, health, labor, and so on, is just so much eyewash and headache."

"Old age pensioners in Alberta are receiving every cent allowed under the Dominion's Old Age Pensions Act, but this amount is far from being sufficient."

In Beachhead

Nazi Armored Units Striking At Allied Flank

By ROBERT VERRILLION

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, Feb. 11.—Allied heavy bombers were hurled into the battle for the imperiled Anzio beachhead on Thursday, but today rain and clouds prevented their use, and German armored units, seizing their advantage, were striking heavily at the British-American flank.

Front dispatches said that by this afternoon rain had nullified the Allied superiority in the air, and Nazi commanders flung their panzer units against the Italian coast bridgehead.

Headquarters spokesmen admitted belatedly that the 5th Army beachhead was endangered gravely by the Nazi counter-blows and that the next few days would be the most critical since Salerno.

Powerful German armored forces and shock troops opened their long-expected offensive yesterday, striking in great strength all along the 14-mile Allied front.

CLAIM APRILIA TAKEN

(A German communiqué said Nazi forces had captured the railroad station of Aprilia (a key point in the Allied northern flank only six airline miles from the sea and 10 miles by highway from the beachhead port of Anzio). (Radio Rome said the Allied forces attempted several times to "slow down the impetus of the German attacks" this morning but were repulsed each time.)

Official commentators said only that the fighting was continuing today, indicating that the German offensive had not yet been turned back.

Milder Weather

Now Prevailing

Edmonton's sub-zero weather came to an end Thursday noon when a south-west wind sprang up. The wind blew at an average rate of 17 miles an hour until 8 p.m., and brought increasing warmer temperatures which reached a maximum of 13 degrees. The overnight low was only 2 degrees above zero. Light snow amounting to 3 inches fell in the city between 4:30 a.m. and 7:30 a.m. Friday, and at 8:30 a.m. the official reading was 15 degrees above zero, with indications of even warmer temperatures throughout the day.

The forecast is partly cloudy, with light snow and becoming milder.

Temperatures continued to rise in the city during the day. Official reading at 2 p.m. was 32 degrees above zero, and the latest forecast from the weather officials was partly cloudy and milder.

Expenditures Increased by $54,455,000

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley today tabled in the Commons non-war estimates for the fiscal year 1944-45, provided for expenditure of $702,369,059 compared with $610,880,494 in the main estimates last year.

The 1943-44 main estimates were increased subsequently to $647,914,000 by supplementary estimates brought down later. Thus the main estimates for the coming fiscal year show an increase of $54,455,000 over the total non-war appropriations for the current year which ends next March 31.

Addition to expenditures for war purposes accounted for all the increase. Largest of these items is a $75,344,000 increase in interest on the public debt and other debt charges. Other major increases are $1,199,000 for administration of income tax and excess profits tax and $2,511,000 for increased post office expenditures.

WAR APPROPRIATION

These non-war estimates are in addition to a war appropriation which has been set at $3,650,000,000 for 1944-45.

War Bill

Estimates For Armed Forces Show Decrease

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Canada and the other United Nations have reached or nearly reached the end of the process of catching up on the enemy in total war preparations, Finance Minister Ilsley said today in the Commons as he gave details of his $3,650,000,000 war appropriation bill for 1944-45.

The total is down $240,000,000 from last year's appropriation of $3,890,000,000 which, the minister said, will probably cover actual expenditures so that no supplementary appropriation will be necessary. Estimates for the army are down $229,000,000 from last year at $1,535,000,000, for the navy down $79,000,000 at $410,000,000 and for the air force down $130,000,000 at $1,090,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President Roosevelt today described the military situation at the Allied beachhead below Rome as very tense, but called attention to the fact that the Allies still have control of the sea and the air in that area.

We are praying for good weather, Roosevelt said, adding that it would be quite a factor in deciding the issue because it would facilitate aerial and naval operations in support of the beachhead.

Charge Chaplin In Conspiracy Against Girl

termed the charges "shocking" and said "if indictments can be issued against judges for performing their duty, then no judge is secure on his bench."

Specifically, the Mann act indictment against Chaplin accused him of "causing to be transported Joan Berry from Los Angeles to the city of New York by railway with the intent and purpose on his part of having the said woman engaged in illicit sex relations." The date given was Oct. 5, 1942.

ALSO SECOND COUNT

The second count of the Mann act indictment charged Chaplin with causing Miss Berry to be transported back from New York on or about Oct. 26, 1942.

Three indictments were returned under the civil rights statutes.

The first charged Chaplin, Arden and White with conspiring to influence a judge of Beverly Hills city court to impose sentence upon Miss Berry for the purpose of deporting her from the State of California.

The second accused Griffin, Arden, White and Chaplin of inducing Miss Berry to plead guilty to a charge of vagrancy without regard to whether or not she was in fact guilty. This is a misdemeanor under federal statutes.

THIRD INDICTMENT

The third indictment charged Chaplin, White, Judge Griffin and Arden with conspiring to deny Miss Berry due process of law and to subject Miss Berry to "deprivation of rights, privileges and immunities" secured to her by the United States constitution.

Bonds for the defendants were fixed at $1,000 each, except for Griffin and White, who were released on their own recognizance.

An official of the United States attorney's office said the maximum sentence on all charges against Chaplin if he were convicted would be 23 years' imprisonment and $25,000 fine.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Miss Berry, who has sued to have Chaplin legally adjudged the father of her infant daughter, was given a suspended sentence on a vagrancy charge last summer in Beverly Hills. She was jailed after a disturbance at the Chaplin residence and released on her promise to stay away from Beverly Hills.

Returning later, she was arrested on charges of violating probation, but Judge Griffin dismissed the charges when the county jail physician said she was pregnant.

She filed her suit against Chaplin last June and two weeks later he eloped to Santa Barbara and married Playwright Eugene O'Neill's 17-year-old daughter, Oona. She is his fourth wife.

House Places Approval on Govt. Program

Canada's war participation, exempt farmers and fishermen from military service and assert Canada's position at international conferences, defeated 178 to 7; and of Dr. Pierre Gauthier (B.P., Portneuf) calling for suspension of military call-ups, an end to mutual aid, constitutional reform and a Canadian flag, defeated 171 to 7.

Wilfred LaCroix (L. Quebec-Montmorency) voted with the Progressive Conservatives after saying "I do not agree with their imperialistic policy."

The same small group of seven Quebec members—Independents, Bloc Populaire and two Liberals (Mr. LaCroix and E. D'Anjou of Rimouski) voted in support of the two sub-amendments.

VOTED AS UNIT
On the Progressive Conservative amendment the whole opposition except two left-wing members, Mrs. Dorlae Nielsen (Unity, North Battleford), and Fred Rose (Lab. Prog., Montreal Cartier) voted as a unit with Liberal members against the motion.

The voting took place after nine days' debate on the throne speech—a shorter debate than usual—which ended in a clash between the government and the C.C.F. group.

A suggestion that Canada's home-defense troops be sent across the Pacific to fight the Japanese, came from Howard Green (P.C.-Vancouver South). He said Canada could expect to have little to say in Pacific affairs if it left all the fighting in that theatre to Americans, Australians and New Zealanders.

REVIEW C.C.F. STAND

The government-C.C.F. clash, which started over the Saskatchewan government's failure to hold a provincial election last year, ended last night in a review of the C.C.F.'s position on Canada's participation in the war.

After M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, repudiated suggestions his party was "national socialist" in character from Agriculture Minister Gardiner and declared he would match its record on war issues against any other Resources Minister Crerar entered the debate.

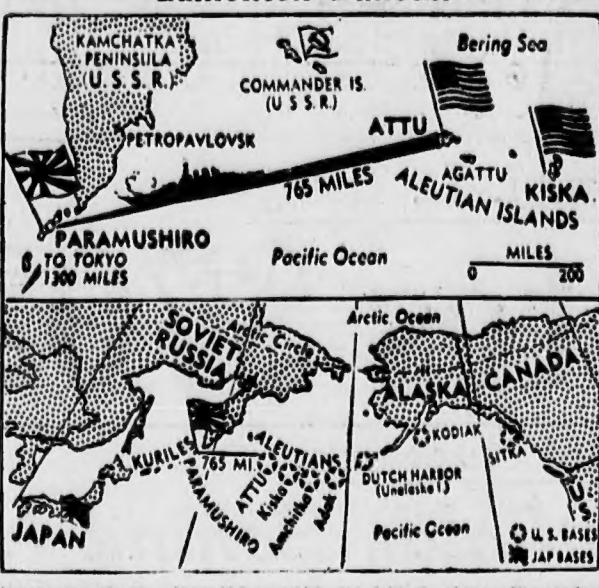

He said that if Canada had followed Mr. Coldwell's policy of economic participation only it would have done nothing in helping to win this terrible war. He quoted from a speech by T. C. Douglas (C.C.F.-Weyburn) opposing increased defence estimates in 1937 and asking who Canada was arming against.

Mr. Douglas interjected that Mr. Crerar had taken a sentence from its context.

That brought Gordon Ross (L.-Moose Jaw) to his feet, to quote more C.C.F. speeches opposing defence estimates and declare that no matter how many times Hansard was read the C.C.F. record could not be altered.

Mr. Coldwell expressed irritation at Agriculture Minister Gardiner's speech Wednesday night suggesting C.C.F. supporters were "national socialists."

Mr. Gardiner, Mr. Coldwell said, was alarmed because his "machine" in Saskatchewan is not working. In the Humboldt federal by-election in September—Joseph Burton, C.C.F. candidate, was elected—the minister had been in charge. Federal government officials had used government cars at public expense.

"No more devastating machine" existed in any democratic country, said Mr. Coldwell. Then he replied to Mr. Gardiner's attacks on Socialism by saying that prior to the war the Liberal government had "regimented" the young people into poverty and want. If ever given the chance, the C.C.F. would free the people from that kind of regimentation.

No C.C.F. "emissary" ever had visited any National Socialist country as Mr. Gardiner had suggested, said Mr. Coldwell. Maj. George H. Williams, former Saskatchewan leader, had gone to Russia, at the request of Saskatchewan farmers, to study farm problems.

NOT ISOLATIONISTS

"We are not provincial isolationists like our friends to the right (New Democracy) and we do not dodge every issue like our friends to the left (Progressive Conservatives)," Mr. Coldwell said.

The C.C.F. had demanded collective security and condemned the support being given Germany, Italy and Japan by powerful interests. It had denounced Mussolini when others were praising him, "like Premier George Drew who came back from Italy and said he was a wonderful man."

At the time of Munich the Prime Minister had sent his congratulations to Prime Minister Chamberlain. He (Coldwell) had denounced the Munich pact.

ATTITUDE CHANGED

In September, 1939, said Mr. Coldwell, he was afraid "we might once again find ourselves sacrificed to those who were behind the Munich agreements." But when the Chamberlain government was replaced by one partly representative of labor and one which could be trusted after Dunkerque his attitude had changed.

Resources Minister Crerar said that if Mr. Coldwell wanted to portray the C.C.F. record prior to the war "As fine and wholesome as he indicates, then he has a big job."

He questioned whether the C.C.F. leader would have favored Canadian participation if Britain and France had gone to war in support of Czechoslovakia.

STATED SO AT TIME

Mr. Coldwell said he had so stated at the time.

Mr. Crerar said the C.C.F. had opposed "modest" increases in the defence estimates in 1936, 1937 and 1938 when it was clear the storm clouds were rising. They had supported a goodwill policy.

Mr. Crerar said Mr. Douglas, in opposing an increase in defence estimates, had asked what potential aggressors they were aimed at and had said "Bogeymen were being trotted out by the government."

"I challenge the minister to read the context," Mr. Douglas interjected.

At the start of the night sitting Mr. Douglas rose on a point of order. He said Mr. Crerar had left incomplete a quotation from "the speech I made in this house" in 1936, and that he wished to read the complete quotation.

Speaker Glen ruled Mr. Douglas out of order. If a member wished to quote part of a speech he was entitled to do so.

"If you were misquoted you could make a correction, but you do not claim you were misquoted," the speaker said.

J. A. Marshall (N.D.—Camrose) said there is "confusion, doubt and anxiety" in Canadian minds over the present trend of events.

He said the common man is concerned over statements, which appeared to be in conflict, on the "resignation" of Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton as Canadian Army commander overseas.

The ordinary Canadian found it hard to understand why Russia fought Finland while the United States, Russia's ally, had friendly relations with Finland.

"CRUEL" TAXATION

The legislation proposed by the government in the Throne Speech meant "bureaucracy and cruel taxation," Mr. Marshall said.

Social security was enjoyed by the slaves of old and by Germans

Pensions Act, is unwilling to give these people their just consideration.

"It is the desire of the government to give certain free services to these aged people, but before such action can be taken, it is necessary to secure an expression from the Dominion government that it will not interfere, and that any additional services will not affect the present income of the pensioners."

"Surely the caring of these people should receive the active support of every person in Canada. I sincerely hope that this Assembly will do everything possible in bringing pressure to bear on the Dominion government to have the Old Age Pensions Act changed and brought in line with the needs and circumstances of our pensioners."

The old age pensioners in Canada should be receiving a minimum of $50 a month, beginning at the age of 60 years, said Mr. Ure. He added, "Apply the principles of Social Credit and such a proposal can readily be instituted."

The present government has assisted farmers through application of the Debtors' Assistance Act, whereby a farmer may apply to have an adjustment of debts made with his creditors, and when legal proceedings are instituted, legal advice is provided free to the farmer, he said.

"More recently this government, in line with its progressiveness, cancelled more than $2,000,000 of farm debts in the province. This helps materially in getting our farmers out of debt, and surely any person free of debt is in a much better position to contribute his best to society physically, mentally and spiritually. More than 10,000 farmers in Alberta benefited by this government's action in wiping out these farm debts," he said.

Mr. Ure said legislation was to be introduced at the present session, to permit the government to carry this work still further, and additional farm debts will be wiped out.

Opening his address with a tribute to the late Premier William Aberhart, the speaker said that in his passing, Canada lost one of her most prominent, most courageous and ambitious leaders. "With his passing the common man lost a truly genuine and proven champion and friend."

"Mr. Aberhart will always be remembered by the young men to whom he gave so much, by the aged and poor for whom he fought, and by all mankind for his fight to change an outworn economic system that allowed poverty in the midst of plenty. We all regret his early passing."

ANOTHER TRIBUTE

A second tribute was paid by Mr. Ure to the late Alfred Speakman, Independent M.L.A. for Red Deer, whose death last November necessitated calling the Red Deer by-election. "The late member was a champion for the veterans of the First Great War, and the people of the Red Deer constituency recognized his ability and were saddened by his untimely death," Mr. Ure said.

There are scores and scores of farmers who are as yet far free from debt, Mr. Ure declared, and they are being haunted by mortgage companies, banks, and loan companies. "These financial sharks still demand their pound of flesh, even though it means the too early death of many debtor farmers, he said.

These unbearable debt conditions of pre-war days, necessitated only by an outdated, unreasonable financial system, have not been corrected, since the present war began. "This government has attempted to do more than any other provincial government in Canada. The senior government has set back on its haunches, and yelped 'ultra vires' whenever a decent, sane, and workable plan for the correction of this debt evil was brought forward by the Social Credit government of this province."

Discussing expansion of treasury branch facilities, Mr. Ure told the Legislature that in the last year, deposits in treasury branches have increased by 300 per cent. until today the organization has $12,000,000 on deposit.

He said the coming summer will witness increased activity in road construction, that more highways will be built, and that increased grants to municipal districts will make possible the construction of

Nazi Armored Units Striking At Allied Flank

In Tunisia's Kasserine Pass, literally "threw the book" at the on-rushing Germans.

SPREAD FIRE, DEATH
Heavy bombers spread fire and death through thousands of Nazi troops streaming into the battle area from the Alban hills. The raiders strewn tons of high explosives and fragmentation bombs on concentrations of enemy troops and tanks at Cisterna, Albano, Velletri, Campo Leone and Cecchena.

Simultaneously, Allied fighter bombers bombed and machine-gunned road lines north and south of Rome over which the Germans might rush additional reinforcements to the battlefield.

Against that concentration of air-power—the Allied forces flew some 850 sorties yesterday—the Germans sent only 30 planes over the beach-head. Three Nazi planes were destroyed at a cost of six Allied aircraft.

FOLLOW HITLER ORDERS
Elements of five German divisions, plus hand-picked Nazi Elite Guards—possibly 50,000 men—opened the main offensive yesterday behind a spearhead of armor and a curtain of artillery fire.

They attacked with a fanatical fury that bore out reports that Adolf Hitler had ordered the Allied invaders driven into the sea at all costs.

Official reports revealed that the brunt of the enemy attack centered on British positions in the Aprilia sector and against Americans west and southwest of Cisterna. Savage fighting raged all along the beachhead perimeter, however, and it was admitted that the battle had reached the touch-and-go stage where a major Nazi break-through might mean disaster.

A British officer who had just come out of the Aprilia line said the Germans were throwing their main attack against that point and described the assault as the most furious he had ever seen.

"LIKE PACK OF WOLVES"

"They come into us like a pack of wolves," he said. "We mow down the first ones but others follow. They assault our outposts, leaving their dead and wounded where they lie."

Tank destroyers backed up threatened areas of the Allied front, racing from point to point to head off the attacking German armor, which thrust continually at the Anglo-American lines in an effort to force a break-through.

Front reports said the Germans were suffering heavy casualties—greater than the Allied losses—but there was no let-down in the fury of their attacks.

Acquittal Given In Murder Trial

VANCOUVER, Feb. 10.—(CP)—A supreme court jury last night acquitted Charles Hawken, 36, Vancouver milk delivery man, on a charge of murdering Francis Andrew Boland, 28, former provincial policeman and former resident of Regina. Mr. Justice H. I. Bird said he agreed with the verdict.

When the jury verdict was announced, several persons shouted "Hurray" and there was a burst of hand clapping.

Before leaving the court house, Hawken was served with a subpoena ordering his appearance as a witness in the hearing of armed robbery charges against Victor Fred Mayer, alleged companion of Boland when the latter was fatally shot in a downtown house Dec. 13.

more secondary and market roads.

Concluding, Mr. Ure said: "Canadians have now seen both the shortage and surplus of money within the last 10 years. If the present Dominion government doesn't know how to implement Social Credit—and of course they don't—then we will, through our national organization, go to Ottawa, and force the government. Surely the correcting of our outworn economic system is one of the major responsibilities of those who guard this country while our brave men and women are winning the war abroad."

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Merriek Drug Stores or any drugstore, and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

Auto Crashes Into Cottage: Woman Hurt

of Wales Armory, injuries to the right arm.

Rose Hrychowski, Vilna, Alta., cuts on nose through breaking her glasses.

Fortin told police that he had been driving west on St. Albert Road and that when he approached 118 avenue intersection, he saw another auto coming from the east. In order to avoid a collision, he swung his vehicle to the left and then lost control of it.

DRIVER UNINJURED

Authorities found that the auto had continued ahead about 189 feet before it jumped the ditch and plowed through the wall of the cottage. The driver escaped personal injury, but extensive damage was done to the car, two tires being flattened in the impact, together with one headlight and one front fender.

Driver of the second auto, Joseph Lafontaine, 11637 124 street, stated that he had been operating a taxi and estimated Fortin's car was travelling at 50 miles an hour. The cars did not collide, he said, and he used the taxi to take Mrs. Cubitt to the hospital.

LAC, Albert E. Fahman, and Mrs. Fahman, who reside in the rear of the Cubitt residence, were uninjured in the accident.

$1,500 BAIL SET

Bail for Fortin was set late Thursday night at $1,500.

Laurence Beal told authorities that he was driving the car, containing three girls and two youths, to St. Albert, and was travelling along Kingsway. The party had reached 118 avenue, and a curve, when the accident happened, he said.

The auto failed to make the curve, hit a post, and then turned over.

Only two of the girls, Lona Hickham, 10214 106 avenue, who had been sitting in the back seat of the car, and Sofia Pacholuk, Spedden, Alta., who had been in the front seat, escaped injury, Beal said.

Appearing before Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., in city police court Friday morning, Beal was found guilty of dangerous driving, and fined $30 or six weeks with hard labor. An application that his driver's license be cancelled was not granted, the magistrate saying that the license was Ontario-granted, and could not be cancelled outside that province.

Beal stated he had a chauffeur's license for Alberta, and was told

Border - Crossing Restrictions Rapped

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 11.—(CP)—Easting of border-crossing restrictions between Canada and the United States was advocated here today by John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader.

Mr. Bracken said: "If international finance or some other limiting factor is to continue to jeopardize our relations with people across the American border, it is time we gave consideration to other means of meeting common problems without forbidding personal contacts."

Here to address a meeting of labor organization members tonight, he criticized the border-crossing rules which now forbid Canadians from taking more than $5 to the United States, while Americans are allowed to take back $100 worth of goods from Canada to their homes.

"Canada's supply of American dollars is now almost an embarrassment," said Mr. Bracken. "It is time the Canadian government recognized that it is doing irreparable damage to relationships of the two peoples along the border line."

Report 3 Bolivia Ministers Resign

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Telephone messages from La Paz, capital of Bolivia, said three members of the Bolivian cabinet had resigned. They were listed as Major Alberto Tabora, minister of interior; Carlos Montenegro, minister of agriculture; and Augusto Cespedes, secretary-general to the government.

by the magistrate that he had "better be quiet about that."

No plea was taken in Fortin's case on a similar charge, and it was adjourned to Feb. 17.

Pacific Action Urged Debate on Throne Speech Is Concluded as House Hears Last of Speakers

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—L. P. Picard (Lib., Bellechasse) said last night in the Commons, Canadian farmers appreciate that the government policy is to keep on the land the men who are needed there.

Noted Preacher

Sidney A. Burnham, F.R.G.S., noted preacher, lecturer and singer of London, Eng., who will visit Edmonton during his tour of Canada and the United States. He will open his Gospel campaign here on Sunday, Feb. 13, in Gospel hall, 57 street and 104 avenue.

Speaking in the throne speech debate, Mr. Picard said his experience had been that farmers were well satisfied and recognized what had been done to obtain adequate food production for Canada and overseas Allied Nations.

Wilfred LaCroix (L., Quebec-Montmorency) had criticized "every move" of the Liberal government, said Mr. Picard, and he asked: "Why does he not cross the floor?"

SENSES "THE TREND"

The answer, he said, was that "He senses the people of Quebec, like the rest of Canada, will be behind Prime Minister Mackenzie King at the next election and he wants to play safe."

"Are these things the main questions in your part of the country?" asked Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader.

"I am trying to bring unity against the isolationists," replied Mr. Picard. The people of Quebec had realized that their true friends were not those who urged narrow provincialism.

Canada had become an autonomous country within the British commonwealth, Mr. Picard said. The broader policies of the government were of more concern than a few "symbols of the past" that concerned Mr. LaCroix. The colonial attitude of mind was no longer warranted.

Howard Green (P.C., Vancouver South) said he found it hard to understand why so few men discharged from the forces in medical category "E" after enlisting as category "A" qualified for pensions.

URGES CHANGES

The pension act should be changed to provide for the presumption that any deterioration in a man's condition during service was due to service. The insurance principle should be applied to pensions for service in Canada.

He urged an increase in the clothing allowance and better cash grants on discharge.

There should be a "Sparkman Act" for Canada to protect service personnel's civilian rights during service.

"The government goes just far enough to save face and only goes that far after a great deal of prodding and delay," said Mr. Green.

The wage-control order should be "scrapped entirely," not amended as promised by Prime Minister King, he said.

Mr. Green predicted more would be said some day about failure to equip adequately the Canadian force sent to Hong Kong.

NO SHARE IN PACIFIC

"Once again, Australians, New Zealanders and Americans are left to do the fighting in the Pacific zone," he said, after praising the performance of Canadian troops at Kiska. If this continued, Canada could expect little voice in Pacific affairs.

The reason for this condition was the policy of not sending home-defence (call-up) troops overseas. The troops on the west coast were fully trained and equipped and eager to fight the Japanese.

"I appeal to the government to end this farce and send these troops to fight, either beside the Australians and New Zealanders in the South Pacific or beside Americans in the central Pacific," he said.

Canada should "give thought to Coast M.P. Wants Beer For Export Delivered to B.C.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Flight Lt. James Sinclair (L., Vancouver North) asked yesterday in the commons whether beer now being shipped to the United States could be diverted to British Columbia for men in the services and war workers there.

Revenue Minister Gibson said the question should go on the order paper.

Flt. Lt. Sinclair said it had been reported that more than 2,000,000 gallons of Canadian beer had been sent to the United States in 1943. He asked if these shipments were warranted by the manpower situation and whether it was considered they helped temperance in the United States.

Col. Gibson said that in British Columbia a beer quota was set for men in the forces which was considered about sufficient. In veterans' canteens the quota was a matter for provincial authorities.

collaborating" with Australia and New Zealand under the agreement recently concluded between the two Pacific dominions.

Calm and careful consideration was required for commonwealth relations, Mr. Green said he believed personally in the common foreign and defence policies for the empire.

FURTHER CONSIDERATION

He appealed to the government to give the question further consideration and not put the Canadian people in a position of opposing a commonwealth movement toward common policy and action.

Canada "might wreck the whole plan" and frustrate the possibility of establishing an enduring peace.

Frederic Dorion (Ind.-Charlevoix-Saguenay) said he had been organizer in Quebec in 1940 for the Progressive Conservatives but that he broke from the party a year later because of its "imperialistic policies." He had felt some of Mr. Picard's remarks about isolationists were aimed at him.

"The present administration is to blame for any isolationism in Quebec because of the kind of election campaigns it has carried on in that province during the past 25 years," he said.

"Tonight, we saw a member who profited by such campaigns to get himself elected, have the nerve to get up and call us isolationists," Mr. Dorion said. "The people will be the judge and I doubt if the government will win a seat in Quebec in the next election."

CHARGE "RIDICULOUS"

H. E. Brunelle (L.-Champlain) said Mr. LaCroix had charged Mr. King with being a follower of the doctrine of imperialism, but that was "ridiculous." Mr. King had stood for the autonomy and independence of Canada within the Commonwealth of Nations.

Rodney Adamson (P.C.-York West) said Liberal members who had criticized the wage-control order outside the house should vote for the Conservative amendment which condemned the order.

The House then voted on a sub-amendment to the address in reply, moved Tuesday night by J. S. Roy (Ind.-Gaspé). It criticized the government for failure to limit Canada's war contribution; to obtain Canadian partnership in Allied conferences; to undertake public works to prevent unemployment, or to provide military exemption for farmers and fishermen. It was defeated by 178 to 7.

Members voting for it were Mr. Roy; Frederick Dorion (Ind.-Charlevoix-Saguenay); the Bloc Populaire members, Maxime Raymond, Beauharnois-LaPrairie, Dr. Pierre Gauthier, Portneuf, and Armand Choquette, Stanstead, and two Liberals, Wilfrid LaCroix, Quebec-Montmorency, and Emmanuel D'Anjou, Rimouski.

MOVES NEW MOTION

After the vote Dr. Pierre Gauthier (B.P., Portneuf) moved another sub-amendment. Dr. Gauthier said it was universally recognized that Canada's war effort was greater for its size than that of any other country.

"I think it is time that the government realizes that our country is being bled white," he said. "We are far from 1940 when the Prime Minister said no troops would be forced to go out of Canada and that our war effort would be moderate."

The house defeated Mr. Gauthier's sub-amendment by a vote of 171 to 7. Two Liberals—Wilfrid LaCroix and Emmanuel D'Anjou—supported the sub-amendment, along with the three Bloc Populaire members—Maxime Raymond, Armand Choquette and Dr. Gauthier—and two Independents, J. S. Roy and Frederick Dorion.

Jottings From House Session

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Surveys now are under way to determine surpluses of war materials and equipment, munitions Minister Howe said in a report on activities of War Assets Corp. Ltd. and the Crown Assets Allocation Committee—established Nov. 29, to dispose of the nation's war assets—tabled yesterday in the commons.

An agreement between Canada and the United States for American construction of eight landing strips along the Alaskan Military Highway was tabled. The United States note said the strips "will result in the highway's greater usefulness."

Public interest in the world of the commons' reconstruction committee has been greater than expected. The committee chairman, J. G. Turgeon (L.-Caribou), recommended that another 500 copies of the committee's fourth report be printed to meet the demand.

Hon. R. B. Hanson (P.C.-York-Sunbury) asked whether agreement had been reached between Canada and the United States on a new treaty for the extradition of criminals. Prime Minister Mackenzie King said he would tell the House Friday what position the discussions have reached.

Business of Session Starts As Members Are Appointed To Select House Committees

First regular item of business conducted at Thursday's opening of the 1944 legislative session was appointment of a special committee named to select members of standing committees for the session. The committee, under chairmanship of Dr. J. L. Robinson, Social Credit M.L.A. for Medicine Hat, will report soon to the House.

Members of the committee are: Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines; Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary; N. B. James, Social Credit M.L.A. for Edmonton; Gordon Lee, Social Credit M.L.A. for Athabasca; LAC, Gordon E. Taylor, Social Credit M.L.A. for Drumheller; James H. Walker, Independent house leader; Warner, and Angus J. Morrison, Labor, Edson.

The session's first bill, an act to amend the Building Associations' Act, was introduced by Premier Ernest Manning, and given first reading.

EXPLANATION AMENDMENT

The bill's explanatory note states that in administration of the act it has been found desirable to obtain the assistance of the provincial government supervisor of co-operative activities, and the amendment gives this official full authority to carry out duties imposed by legislation on the Building Associations' advisory board.

The board's duties include the examination of applications for incorporation under the act, and to conduct an inquiry into the affairs of any association and to report the results of such an inquiry to the government minister in charge.

Lord Sempill, visiting British peer, was seated on the floor of the House during opening proceedings, next to Hon. N. E. Tanner in the treasury benches.

Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson welcomed the visitor, who is a member of the British House of Lords, and who sat on the floor of the Canadian Senate when it opened sittings at Ottawa recently.

WORK OUTSTANDING

Mr. Dawson referred to Lord Sempill's outstanding record of public service, saying, "His outstanding work in the field of aviation since the last war is well known, and the important mission upon which he is engaged at the present time is a tribute to the value of his knowledge and experience."

"Lord Sempill served with distinction in the Royal Air Force with both the army and the navy in the last war," the Speaker stated. "I am sure that honorable members will warmly approve of my action in extending to his lordship the privilege of a seat on the floor. On your behalf I assure him that he is a most welcome visitor."

Loud applause of M.L.A.'s on both sides of the House marked the conclusion of the Speaker's welcoming remarks to Lord Sempill.

SITTING ADJOURNED

Premier Manning adjourned the sitting of the legislature to 3 p.m. Friday. At that time, David Ure, Social Credit M.L.A. for Red Deer, will move the reply to the Speech from the throne, and S. A. Berg, Social Credit M.L.A. for Alexandra, will second it.

Fifty-five of the 56 House members were present at the opening session. Hugh John Macdonald, K.C., Liberal M.L.A. for Edmonton, is absent at Ottawa, and is expected to return shortly. One seat, in the Calgary multiple constituency, is vacant, through the death of Premier Aberhart. The government has announced it will not be filled by a by-election contest.

Explains Stand On "Objectors"

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Paul Martin, parliamentary assistant to Labor Minister Mitchell, said yesterday in the Commons that when conscientious objectors refuse to perform alternative service they are committed to service camps and "their dependents have to rely upon their own resources."

Replying to a question asked Wednesday by T. C. Douglas (C.C.F.-Weyburn), Mr. Martin said that when men are declared to be conscientious objectors they are "given the opportunity of performing alternative service by assigning part of their wages to the Canadian Red Cross, and adjustments are made in the amount of the assignment so that the man will be able to maintain his dependents."

"There are certain cases, however, where individuals will not accept any direction at all and in these cases it has been necessary to have them committed to service camps," said Mr. Martin.

The Pattern of Democracy

YOUR WHOLE LIFE is a thread in the democratic pattern.

You have seen the design sturdily woven out of the common aims and joys and cares of the common man and his loved ones.

You have seen it made secure by the co-operation of liberty-loving people who labour and save and fight for their own protection and peace of mind.

IN YOUR LIFETIME, too, you have seen the strong pattern of life insurance spring from the same close interweaving of individual interests for the common good.

The people have built it for the people. And the government, expressing the will of the whole people, supervises it in the common interest.

THE GREAT AIM and end of democracy is to produce equal opportunities for all.

And in life insurance this aim is realized.

Every owner of life insurance shares with every other the unfailing protection which their pooled savings provide.

By no other method can the small policyholder and the large enjoy the immediate peace of mind which comes to those who plan their own future according to their own means.

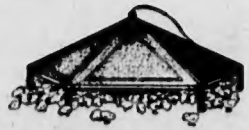

It is good citizenship to own

Lamps that Help Save the Lives OF Baby Chicks

IN brooders, on hundreds of Canadian farms, Edison Mazda lamps are helping reduce the mortality rate among chicks, young pigs and other livestock by providing a safe, simple and economical source of radiant heat.

Almost any lamp of sufficient wattage—general service, reflector, or heat lamps—used in a suitable reflector or other mounting can be quickly converted into a home-made brooder that will be an effective substitute for hard to get equipment. Ask your Edison Lamp Dealer for details.

Quebec and the War

Mr. John Diefenbaker of Saskatchewan performs a very real service to the Canadian people when he again points out, in the House of Commons, the highly reluctant and insufficient contribution of Quebec to the war effort.

He shows that Quebec lags appreciably behind the rest of Canada in voluntary enlistments, that 60 per cent more of the young men have been called up in his own province than in Quebec.

The revelation of these and corollary facts erects a very interesting background for the plotting and scheming of the Bloc Populaire and other nationalist organizations of Quebec that are currently screaming for a more intense Canadianism.

How can any man or any group of men pretend to love Canada when they manifest such a grudging unwillingness to help defend her?

Toscanini for President

There is said to be a movement on foot to draft the eminent anti-fascist musician, Arturo Toscanini, as president of post-war Italy.

It used to be said that all cultured people had two countries—their own and Italy. And to those who look back to the pre-Mussolini Italy as a land of charm and music and gaiety and art, the suggestion will be welcome.

Like all great artists, Toscanini has an instinctive sense of the true values of life. His long residence in the United States has given him a sound knowledge of democracy.

If there is any sure antidote to the sour opportunism of Fascism, these qualities should supply it.

Many will applaud the proposal that would make Arturo Toscanini president of Italy.

Development Money

In the Speech from the Throne at the opening of Parliament it was announced that "Expenditures on development work, in preparation for the transition from war to peace, will be encouraged by suitable tax modifications."

What these modifications will be, how they are to be applied, and what safeguards are to be established against chiselling, will appear when the measures are introduced. The principle as thus stated must commend itself to all who are concerned in the question of after-war employment.

If we are to have full employment in post-war times there will have to be more employers and larger employing institutions than there were in 1939. More jobs imply more production, more distribution, more transportation. From factory and store to railways, mines, farms and forests, the economic machinery of the nation will have to be bigger than it ever has been.

The idea of encouraging development and expansion of job-creating and revenue-producing enterprise by remission of taxation is complementary to the provision of the income tax law by which business income within fixed limits is given exemption if spent in maintaining industrial and commercial establishments.

There will of course have to be provision that the proposed tax "modifications" will only apply to money that is actually invested in the ways and for the purpose intended. Profits which would otherwise go to the public treasury will have to be plowed back into reproductive investment in order to escape taxation; and cannot be added to corporation reserves or divided up as dividends.

Tojo Sees It Now

When Premier Tojo decided that the hour had struck to make Japan complete and sole master of the Orient, the Japanese merchant marine was the third largest in the world. It totalled 5,630,000 tons of carriers.

This great fleet of transports was relied upon to carry supplies to Japanese troops scattered among the islands of the South Pacific and in the Asian mainland, to feed naval vessels on remote stations with stores of all kinds; and to bring back to Japan the fruits of conquest in the shape of products for home use and materials out of which to fashion the tools of war.

Yet the official news agency at Tokyo now explains that transportation difficulties are limiting the use that can be made of the resources of the over-run areas. This is news of first-rate importance to the Allies, because unless Japan can exploit the resources of those areas and convey the materials to the home factories, its military strength must dwindle for lack of munitions.

The island kingdom lacks iron and tin and copper and zinc and oil and a long list of other war necessities which it banked on getting, and has been getting, from the territories it invaded. The war plan was that its military forces should capture and make available the materials with which they could be kept going. Each victory should help them some other to win—that was the theory.

This was a gambler's strategy, but it was the only strategy by which Japan could win. If, as Dornier now says, the transportation link in the scheme is found weak, the fact must be arousing genuine apprehension at the gangster headquarters. Because if Japan has not enough ships, neither is it in position to build enough. It hasn't the materials.

Herr Hitler some time ago dropped a broad hint to Tojo that there was such a thing as over-extending. The Dornier announcement indicates that Tojo has come to see the point.

Canada has lost as many fighting ships in the war as it had when the war began. The 14th is the mine-sweeper Chebucto, irreparably damaged in a collision in the St. Lawrence. The caption "fighting navy" has been well earned.

One result of the Russian victory on the northern flank is that the Baltic fleet will be able to emerge from its hiding places in the Gulf of Finland and, with protection and help from land-based planes, interfere with the shipment of Swedish iron to Germany. If that supply can be seriously cut down, a shortage of steel will be added to the troubles of the Fuehrer, for he is dependent almost entirely on the Swedish mines for this most vital material.

The fighting on the Italian front has been growing more furious. For the reason that more and more enemy divisions are being drawn down from the stronghold in the northern mountains to hold the advance line. This is another way of saying that the invasion of Italy is producing one of the important results it was intended to produce. More and more of the limited Nazi manpower is being diverted into the peninsula, away from the Russian front and the "invasion coast."

When American marines and infantry got ashore in the Marshall Islands they found their chief obstacles were not the Jap defences, but the fires started by shells and bombs which for three days their own covering naval and air forces had poured into the enemy positions. Those who direct and who work in munitions plants anywhere in an Allied country may see the moral. The machines they are turning out are saving Allied soldiers on every front, and clearing the way to Tokyo and Berlin.

Babies Need Love and Affection

Granny Can Be Grandest Of Best Heaven-sent Blessings

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

When women get together, whether they be old or young, someone is sure to mention a baby or babies. These utterings come from perhaps a new mother, a new granny, or even a newly made auntie. But after they have been with pride there is that pained facial expression and such remarks as "What are we going to use for safety pins?" Another stock comment is "If there were more women in the government there wouldn't be this appalling shortage of flannellette."

However, Mothers seem to be getting along with tapes instead of safety pins, and get the necessary flannellette in small quantities, and otherwise make out with substitutes.

But there are no priorities on love and understanding, and nothing we can do or provide for a baby is more important.

Many parents either don't quite know what to do and are overwhelmed by their responsibility, or they have acquired so much information and are so worried about doing the wrong thing that they can't relax and enjoy the baby.

Ideas Change

One of the countries most eminent pediatricians, who has three children of her own, has astonished many in her right-about-face in such frowned-on matters as picking up and cuddling a baby. She also says, much as I hate to report it, there is nothing wrong with a pacifier as long as it is frequently washed.

The fact is, as research in child development has established, and as many parents knew all along, there is nothing the matter with a lot of things babies instinctively do. This feminine doctor also says there was a good deal wrong with the rules laid down when pediatricians were going to medical school fifteen years ago, as she was—the rule of stop-watch regularity of feedings, for example, and the one about letting a baby "cry it out". When she tried to apply this latter one to her own baby, she said, "I found it made a lot of difference to me whose baby was crying!"

This brings us back to baby's need of warmth and affection, and the grown-ups around him. Many fathers are in the services and many mothers will be on their

Dismemberment of Latter May Reveal Surprising Results

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Since my first article on the probable effects of German dismemberment the transformation of the Soviet Union into a commonwealth of sixteen states has been announced.

Considering that the division of Germany is advocated as a means of weakening the Reich, while the Soviet transformation is for the strengthening of the external influence of the Union, there must be possibilities in the concept of German division which we have not adequately considered.

Mr. Philippe Barres, the French Journalist, in a letter to the "Herald-Tribune" on Saturday advocated the exclusion of Prussia from the Reich, clearly as a means of weakening the German nation. Without going into his historical analysis and particularly his attempt to tie up Nazism with "Prus-slanism" which is a dangerously misleading hobby of many contemporaries, Mr. Barres is really harking back to the seventeenth century policy of Cardinal Richelieu, to foster every division in Germany including the religious-ideological, as a means of strengthening France. In the long run, however, the cardinal's policy had exactly the opposite results; Protestant Prussia was strengthened, and emerged as the rallying ground for the whole Reich.

Struggles

But the seventeenth century is not the twentieth, though it also has its ideological struggles. Its leading feature is modern industrialism creating great trans-national aggregations of economic power. Political-geographical delineations in themselves have become increasingly meaningless.

So if it is advocated that Germany be divided into five states, is it meant that merely five separate political bodies are to be created, or do we also mean five separate economic, currency, and educational systems? Is the whole stream of German life to be dammed at five sets of frontiers? Just how could that be done, and what would be the effect of trying it, upon the life of Europe as a whole?

Will the division of the Soviet Union into sixteen federated states bring about disunity? Obviously not, because the Soviet Union remains united in content. Sixteen Soviet republics have a common union, a single social structure, and a single system of education—every school child learns the same thing, whether he learns it in a Caucasian language, in Ukrainian, or in Russian. All of the Soviet Union will continue to be administered by the Communist party, which is both a caste of administrators, and a political priesthood.

And unless it is made impossible for any unifying idea, carried by any common political party, to emerge in post-war Germany, five Germanys, like sixteen Soviet republics, may ultimately be not less but more effective in their influence upon Europe than one Germany.

Prussianism

Of course, there is a way to split

Germany into at least two very different types of states. That is to grant to Communist Russia a sphere of influence in one part and to the Anglo-Americans a sphere in the other—which might happen through the assignment of armies of occupation. But that could not prevent trans-border political influences. One set of Germans would compare with their "others" their personal fates and national possibilities. In the long run each sphere—and its sponsors—would compete for the other. And as Prussia, which happens to be one of the poorest parts of Germany, would be in the Russian sphere, there might soon be a resurgence of "Prussianism" with quite new and different slogans.

We, who are outside Europe cannot clearly see what is happening there, but we can observe that a class conflict is mounting and cutting across all frontiers. It is not written in the stars that national questions will be the most virulent and profound at the end of this war—which has its roots in struggles between ideas rather than between nations.

The spirit of the times and the necessities of Europe struggle however blindly toward unification, not toward Balkanization. Five Germanys, therefore, would eventually seek to unite themselves under some new idea, or with a unifying idea would struggle in five directions for the integration of all Europe. If by chance any one or two of the five should meanwhile become integrated with the neighboring Soviet Commonwealth, that would exercise an enormous influence upon the others and across the others, too, to the rest of Europe.

Diplomacy

If I raise these questions, it is only because I think we must break away from the conventional ways of thinking, and the terms of traditional diplomacy, and open our minds to the great range of possibilities that are latent for development in Europe. It is unfair and unwise to pin the epithet of pro-Germany, upon everyone who entertains doubts about what may be official policies. The results of policies have too often been the exact opposite of their intent.

He's No Politician

Chicago Daily News

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York laughed off an hour and a half wait for Mayor Kelly today as they finally met at the Stevens hotel and chatted on affairs of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, which opens tomorrow.

"Budget trouble," said Kelly to explain this slippage in Chicago hospitality, after a confab with the city council finance committee. LaGuardia was sympathetic: "I know—you have a $163,000,000 budget. Look at me—mine is $700,000,000."

Meanwhile, the little mayor with the big budget gave a press conference, comment and wisecracks, talking of eggs, tomatoes, war and peace, soldiers and diplomats. Of post-war economic policy, he said:

"To live in this world, we must give other peoples a chance to live. This so-called joke about milk for Hotentots is nothing to laugh at. If we could provide them the milk, we should do it. We must trade with the world; junk our synthetic rubber plants after the war and buy natural rubber."

There also was the matter of the 4th term. Fiorello shoved his shell-rimmed glasses to his forehead and blandly announced:

"People don't talk to me about politics so I don't know anything about politics."

Would the American Labor party be a very big factor in the November election?

"At present they seem to be busy just fighting among themselves. They are good at that."

But Fiorello again steered the questioning from politics, insisting: "After all, that isn't my field. I have never belonged to one party for more than 15 minutes."

Prepositions

To the Editor of the New York Times: In your recent interesting editorial "Back Seat for Prepositions" you say Fowler holds that a preposition is allowed at the end "only when used in the literal or the most obvious sense." Such a position, you declare, seems too constrictive.

Fowler himself would be the first to agree with you. His article "Preposition at End" in "Modern English Usage," which article is referred to in the 1930 edition of "The King's English," might be described as an documented, persuasive, encomium on the terminal preposition, "a valuable idiomatic resource."

He sweeps cogently to the judgment: "The legitimacy of the prepositional ending in literary English must be uncompromisingly maintained." And he then gives the advice, not that the final preposition be limited in use, but that it be kept if it "sounds comfortable" or, even if it "does not sound comfortable," "if it has compensating vigor, or when among awkward forms it is the least awkward."

Britain's Middle Class Moves Up

Stratford Beacon-Herald

There is a tendency, particularly in the United States, to regard the British cabinet as chiefly composed of Tory aristocrats, the majority belonging to the Conservative party. That is far from the case, as the St. Thomas Times-Journal reminds.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Churchill, is the grandson of a Duke of Marlborough, yet nobody thinks of him as a scion of the blue-blooded aristocracy. In thought and purpose he is as democratic as any Labor man.

Foreign Secretary Eden and Minister of Production Oliver Lyttelton are about the only two who are of the ancient aristocracy; but they also have shown intense sympathy for and understanding of the working people and their problems. Clement Attlee, the chief Labor representative, and Sir John Anderson, Chancellor of the Exchequer, are definitely "middle class."

Foremost of the "men of the people" type is Ernest Bevin, minister of labor, who was just a laborer until he rose to fame as a trade union official.

Herbert Morrison, home secretary, was born in the East End of London, son of a policeman.

Lord Woolton, now minister of reconstruction, began life as a school teacher until he went into business.

Sir James Grigg, secretary for war, worked his way through university on scholarships.

Sir Stafford Cripps' father was a Labor peer of middle class origin.

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, was the son of a mechanic and left school at the age of 13 to begin work as an office boy.

Lord Leathers, the minister of transport, was another product of the East End of London, where his father was a carpenter.

Even Lord Beaverbrook, the Lord Privy Seal, began in the humblest way, the son of a poorly paid Presbyterian minister, and had only a public school education.

The leaders of Britain today are drawn from every class, and are proof that the only qualification for entering the cabinet is capacity for leadership.

Overseas Dog Story

The following incident was described by Lieut. Farley Faulkner, who, before going overseas with the Canadian Army, wrote a Hollywood column.

"For sheer gallantry I have never seen anything like it," exclaimed our Major. "We were marching in column of route somewhere in England. My platoon happened to be leading the column and the Major had requested me to move up and march beside him."

Two cocker spaniels had picked up our column and were trotting along the road a few yards in front of us. The smaller of the dogs seemed inclined to be mischievous and playful. As we marched along this little fellow would "breakoff" on his own and cut a variety of capers which did not exactly meet with the larger dog's approval.

Suddenly from behind the roadside hedge we heard the little fellow crying for help. Darting back on the highway in front of the larger dog, we all saw the reason for his distress.

Sharp thorns from branch of a wild rose bush were only sinking deeper as the little fellow vainly attempted to shake the branch clear of his tortured body.

All ranks were now aware of the "drama" taking place directly in front of us. Natural instinct in every one of us was fighting to overcome the stronger sense of discipline and training which would not permit us to "break ranks." Appropriately enough our Major ran forward to the rescue. But the large spaniel had already decided on a course of action.

A split second, which seemed like an hour filled with pleading canine cries, and the large spaniel leaped forward, seized the thorny branch in his mouth, shook his head quickly from left to right, and the incident was over.

Over, that is, except for the Major's comment, and the fact that

Important Role Is Predicted For Cargo Aircraft

The new type of cargo aircraft which will be developed in the future "will materially help to solve the economic problems of the bigger and better world for which the United Nations are fighting," W. Leigh Brintnell, president of Aircraft Repair Limited, said before a meeting of Rotarians at the Macdonald Thursday noon.

Tracing the "Development of Air Freightage in Northern Canada," Mr. Brintnell said that "there are still great portions of the world which have not been scratched in the development of their natural resources."

NORTHLAND RICH

"This is particularly true of all of northern Canada," he continued, "as we actually have only a thin strip of developed country along the southern part of the Canadian United States boundary. We know that the northern part of our country is extremely rich in minerals and natural resources of all kinds."

"Thus fleets of efficient air freighters will make possible the development of natural resources to an extent we have never dreamed before. The accelerated development of these natural resources will help materially in solving the post-war employment problem."

Illustrating his address with kodachromes depicting actual operations of air freighters from 1924 when HS2Ls were used in connection with forestry work in the northern part of Ontario to activities of more recent years, Mr. Brintnell pointed out that "the convertible type air freighter could be built very cheaply... and the cost of operation of this type of plane must come down considerably from its present price to enable people living in isolated districts to take advantage of the passenger and express fares."

NEW COUNTRY OPENED

He said that air freighters had been the "means of opening up new country, creating new wealth and making productive jobs for more people."

Mr. Brintnell, an experienced northern flier himself, outlined a proposal for the construction of an inexpensive and improved type of air freighter.

"I personally believe the air freighter which is adaptable for use in Northern Canada," he said, "could be used in any other part of the world. In many undeveloped countries there are lakes and rivers on which operations could be carried out until such time as airports could be built."

Preceding the introduction of Mr. Brintnell by W. J. Dick, regional oil controller, T. Waller Wilson, manager of the Hudson Paper Co., formerly of Winnipeg,

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

WITH the competition narrowing down sharply in several events, visitors continue to hold their own with Edmonton rinks in the annual bonspiel, the finals of which will be concluded Saturday night on schedule, according to Secretary Jim McCool.

In the Edmonton Breweries Ltd. (Grand Challenge) event, four of the six survivors are outside rinks, with one visiting (Bert Robinson of Jasper) and one city (Cliff Manahan) already assured a slice of the jewelry.

The same situation holds in the Bank of Montreal, but the way the draw is working out, two visitors are certain of places in the semi-finals. Hills of Calgary is in now and McLevin of Red Deer and Bob Robinson of Edmonton will fight it out for a top bracket.

Two outside and five city skippers are still travelling in the King Edward event, while in the Eaton competition two visiting rinks—Key of Hughenden and Dultman of Wetaskiwin—are already in the four. Another is bound to get in for Smith of Westlock and Perry of Cadogan will battle for the right to meet Dultman in the lower half. Three visiting and three local rinks are in the sixteens of the North West Brewery.

EIGHT EXTRA-ENDERS

THURSDAY'S games set a new high for extra-enders with a total of eight extra-enders being recorded. Smith of Westlock had to go 11 ends on the early draw before stopping Friend of Botha 10-9, and Schultz of Bruderheim waited until the 11th before getting the payoff rock against Perry of the Royal.

Buster Shaw of Vegreville beat Lorimer of Lacombe in an additional end in the Calgary Brewery on the 11:30 and Key of Hughenden took Twitchell of Daysland 10-8 at 2 o'clock. Bert

Eleven Rinks Reach Jewelry in Bonspiel

McLaughlin Is in Fours Of 2 Events

ELEVEN rinks had entered the jewelry stage in the annual bonspiel of the Alberta Curling Association with the completion of the sixth draw late Thursday night. In addition all of the remaining brackets in the eights of six events were filled and several skips had reached the sixteens in two others.

George McLaughlin's curlers from the Royal, already out in the four of the King Edward Hotel and Edmonton Motors (City), were leading with 10 successive wins. Manahan, in the semi-final of the Edmonton Breweries (Grand Challenge) had nine victories and was the other unbeaten rink.

Undepleted with seven triumphs at the commencement of play yesterday morning, Wolfe went out three times in a row and Whit Matthews, after winning 7-6 from Haight of Calgary in the King Edward to boost his string to eight, lost seeking entry into the fours of both the Challenge and City events.

In the fours (lower half) of the Edmonton Breweries are Bert Robinson and Cliff Manahan. In the top half Purvis of Crossfield will play Dr. Gagney of Sexsmith and McLaughlin meets McConachie of Cochrane for the two remaining berths.

Johnny Metz of Alberta Ave. and Hills of Calgary are in the semi-finals of the Bank of Montreal. In the eights (top half) are McLevin of Red Deer, Bob Robinson of Edmonton, Aircraft Repair and Perry of Cadogan.

McLaughlin is the only semi-finalist out in the King Edward, while Key of Hughenden and Dultman of Wetaskiwin have two of the jewelry spots in the Eaton. Bob Robinson of Edmonton and Berthel from Hardisty have tied up two of the four semi-final berths in the Calgary Brewery (Visitors), and Willis of the Edmonton club and McLaughlin are in the fours of the Edmonton Motors (City).

Bert Robinson gained the first semi-final berth in the Edmonton Breweries event and he advanced at the expense of Matthews on the 4:30 draw. Robinson led 7-3 at the end of the eighth, but Matthews picked up three on the ninth and a singleton on the 10th to send the game into the extra session, which was taken by the Jasper rink.

Manahan went into the fours of the same event by defeating Mah Bow 9-6 before the biggest gallery of the bonspiel. After a blank first end, the Manahans took a pair on both the second and third. The Ponoka rink however came up with two on the fourth, then dropped one on the fifth and two more on the sixth to give Manahan a 7-2 margin.

Mah Bow's men counted three on the seventh, lost the next two ends by one rock each, but took the final, when W. Sue who was skipping made a nice draw for shot. Wolfe was high scorer for Manahan in that to Purvis of Crossfield and he lost to Purvis of Crossfield in the Challenge sixteens at 4:30. Kemp added an 8-6 setback on the late draw in the Edmonton Motors. McLaughlin gained his tenth win of the bonspiel when he defeated Matthews 10-8 in the City event on the last draw.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Now that relaxed dimout restrictions will permit outdoor night sports in the New York area, Promoter Mike Jacobs is planning an early-summer boxing show at Yankee Stadium "that will knock your eye out." Jacobs says, "You'll be surprised when I announce the principals."

Baseball's post-war planning committee, which concluded a two-day session in New York Sunday, are expected to be called by Commissioner Landis for another big meeting in May to consider the game's current problems. . . . Consideration of the farm problem again will be omitted.

Competition for the $25,000 Widener Handicap at Miami's Hialeah, March 4, perked up with announcement that First Fiddle and Shot Put will be shipped from New Orleans. . . . It's still uncertain, however, if Prince Quillo and Alsab will start. . . . Billingsbrook is considered a sure starter.

Because of recent criticism against decisions, the New York Boxing Commission instituted a new system of announcing at Wednesday night's Larkin-Costantino fight which puts the ring officials on the spot. . . . Instead of merely announcing the winner, as in the past, the individual round totals of the referee and two judges are announced—before the winner. . . . This gives the fans a chance to boo the scoring of an erring official, as on the spot.

At the opening of the baseball season, the Southern Association will give its fans a change of pace in a hurry. All opening series will be two-game affairs, instead of the customary five-game clusters of the past. . . . Each team opening the season away from home will play two games, and then move to its home park for a five-game series to compensate for being away on opening day.

Bill Dickey, veteran catcher of the New York Yankees, heads for his Little Rock home today, after signing for his 17th season with the Yanks. . . . Although it was announced that his salary is the same as in 1943, we learn that he was given a boost of $5,000 bringing his pay to $25,000.

Fresco Thompson, who managed the Montreal ball club last season and will pilot the New Orleans club this year, is working as a ship-fitter in the Blair shipyards in Yonkers, N.Y., six days a week, and 12 hours a day. . . . Mike Belloise, former featherweight champ, has been signed for three bouts in Panama. . . . He leaves New York for Panama, Feb. 20.

Indianapolis Ties 4-4 With Bisons

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Indianapolis' scrapping Capitals came from far back last night to tie Buffalo Bisons 4-4 on last period goals by Nakina Smith and Alex. Ritson.

The tying tally offset a great scoring spurge by Buffalo centre, Freddie Thurier, who scored four goals.

Lakehead Junior

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Port Arthur West Ends scored a 5-4 overtime victory over Port Arthur Flyers here last night in a Lakehead Junior game. Cy Wrightsall, with two, Ed. Siltanen, Jack Marshall and Eric Dallas scored for West Ends, Johnny Raynak netted three Flyers' goals, Louis Nestico getting the other.

American Association baseball club that last year won the league pennant, Veck, 29, now a full-fledged marine, has been named honor man of his platoon at the San Diego base where he is taking his basic training. He was among the first of his platoon of 60 over the obstacle course, shot sharp-shooter on the range despite the fact he had never fired a rifle before, and generally made his training look easy.

Need Two Courses
Empress Tourney
VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 11.—Over-throw entry in the unadvertised 18th annual Empress golf tournament here from March 6 to 11 makes it necessary to spread play over two local courses instead of one.

The committee tried to hold the list down to a comfortable figure for the Oak Bay links, but when entries still came pouring in from business men from the United States and Canada the committee finally decided Thursday to use the Uplands course as well as the picturesque Oak Bay layout. Two hundred entries have been received, about 80 from the United States and the rest from Canadian points as far east as Toronto. Harry Givan, one-plus Seattle star, is expected to provide the hottest competition. He won both major events for the men last year.

Ross told about the Salvation Army's work among the "louts and jetsam" of humanity and how derelicts were reclaimed to useful citizenship. His address, based on personal experience and the experiences of other Salvation Army social workers, was very vivid.

2,800 Japanese Now in Alberta

There are 2,800 Japanese now resident in Alberta, according to George Collins, Vancouver, commissioner in charge of Japanese under the British Columbia Security Commission.

He arrived here Friday to confer with Dr. G. Fred McNally, deputy minister of education, relative to the education of 500 Japanese children in the province.

The majority of the Japanese in Alberta are engaged in the sugar beet industry in the south. During the winter 180 were sent to lumber operators, but they will return to the beet farms in the spring. More than 500 are employed on highway construction in British Columbia in three camps.

Memory of Late Premier Honored As Life-Sized Portrait Unveiled

The memory of the late Premier William Aberhart lives undiminished in the hearts of those who were influenced by his life and work, Premier Ernest Manning declared as he took part in a ceremony of unveiling a life-sized portrait of the late Alberta government leader, which was held Thursday afternoon immediately after adjournment of the opening sitting of the Legislative Assembly.

The unveiling took place on the floor of the assembly chamber, with more than 300 persons gathered to witness the function, which probably stands unique in parliamentary annals of the British Empire.

As Premier Manning concluded a brief tribute to the memory of the late premier, the Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, of both Mr. Aberhart's and Mr. Manning's governments, drew aside a velvet hanging which concealed the easel-mounted portrait.

The painting depicts Premier Aberhart at his desk in the premier's office, and is 48 by 56 inches in size. Painted in oils by N. de Grandmison of Banff, celebrated portrait artist, it will hang in corridors of the Legislative Buildings here.

"It is not necessary to hang a portrait in these halls to keep alive the memory of Premier Aberhart," said Mr. Manning, adding that men of the late premier's calibre are remembered by the things they did, their endeavors and accomplishments.

It was fitting, he continued, that the portrait was to be unveiled in the Legislative Chambers. "Eight years the government leader, he was the only premier in the 38 years' history of the province who died in office. It is fitting his portrait should hang in the halls of the building associated with the lives of all the citizens of the province."

Mr. Manning pointed out that Mr. Aberhart had been elevated to the highest office people of the province could give by the use of their franchise, and said that in coming years the late premier's viewpoint as a pioneer would be appreciated. The portrait will pass into the jurisdiction of Mr. Fallow's department of public works, which is in charge of provincial buildings, and it is expected it will be hung immediately for public inspection.

Two Edmontonians Awarded Prizes

The examining board in chartered accountancy at the University of Alberta announced Friday that two Edmontonians have won prizes for the highest standings in intermediate and primary examinations in accountancy.

Five Edmontonians were successful in the December examinations along with 11 others from Calgary and Lethbridge.

Dorland H. Fowler, 11923 83 street, with the accounting firm of McDaniel Brothers and Company, won the prize for obtaining highest marks in the intermediate examination; Joseph Faller won the bronze medal for first class general standing in primary examinations.

Elvin Arnold Christensen and John Babington MacMahon were the two city men successful in their final examination. Passing the intermediate exams were Mr. Fowler and Harry W. Hulton, and Mr. Faller was the only Edmonton man writing primary examinations.

Tribute Is Paid To Late Premier As House Opens

The Alberta Legislature paid official tribute to the memory of the late Premier William Aberhart Thursday afternoon, when members stood for a one-minute period of silence, at the request of Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson.

The Speaker placed the tribute at the head of the day's legislative proceedings, asking for observation of the silence just after Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen had opened the session and left the Assembly chamber.

War Vets' Group Regrets Action On Red Chevrons

Following action already taken by the Calgary Red Chevron Association, the Edmonton Red Chevron Club at its regular meeting Wednesday night "expressed regret that the Dominion government has seen fit, by order-in-council, to authorize the issue of red chevrons to members of the R.C.A.F. for each year of service subsequent to the first year of the present war."

It was pointed out that the C.E.F. routine orders, issued in May, 1918, provided that "The King has been graciously pleased to approve the award of chevrons to be worn by members of the C.E.F. to denote service overseas undertaken since August 4, 1914," red chevrons to denote service overseas before Dec. 31, 1914, and blue for service from Jan. 1, 1915, and additional blue chevrons to be worn for each year of service overseas after the first year.

The chevrons are highly valued, especially by wearers of the red chevron. They induce a spirit of continued comradeship between the men entitled to wear them.

It now appears, officials of the club stated, that, without regard to the prior award of the red chevron by His Majesty King George V, by recent order-in-council the government of Canada has authorized the issue of a red chevron to the members of the R.C.A.F. for each year of service subsequent to the first year of the present war, irrespective of class or place of service.

"Nothing in the action taken by the club in connection with this award must be construed as reflecting in any way on the personnel of the R.C.A.F.," asserted one official. "A large percentage of our members have sons serving in the R.C.A.F., both overseas and in Canada, and the club as a whole has the greatest admiration for and pride in the boys in air force blue. This applies to all branches of the service."

"But a tradition has been developed over a period of a quarter of a century in regard to the red chevron, its purpose and meaning, which it is felt should not be disturbed. The issue of the red chevron to members of the R.C.A.F. can but only have the effect of detracting from the distinctive honor which up to now has been held by the wearers of the red chevron earned overseas so many years ago."

The opinion was expressed at the meeting that the government should be urged to authorize a chevron in some other color than red for the use of the R.C.A.F.

The club endorsed two resolutions which originated with the Edmonton Ex-Servicemen's Rehabilitation committee.

Progress was reported on arrangements for the annual Ypres banquet, to be held this year on Saturday, April 22. This will be the 29th anniversary of the famous battle and the club's 25th annual banquet. President G. E. H. Hauff was in the chair. Godfrey Henderson is secretary-treasurer.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
A recent Berne dispatch said that "influential circles" in northern Italy are working for the election of Arturo Toscanini as "president of the future Italian republic." Do you think the choice of this noted anti-Fascist conductor is a good one?

THE ANSWERS
MRS. L. K. RIORDAN, clerk: I don't think so. First of all, if I remember correctly, Toscanini is not a well man and secondly, I have never heard anything about him in connection with statesmanship or politics. Being an active anti-Fascist and an excellent musician doesn't necessarily mean he would be a well equipped and capable political leader.

ALEC GRAYSON, "amateur musician": My first impulse would be to wax lyrical about the superb ability of "the great maestro" as a conductor and composer, but as far as politics is concerned, the election of Toscanini as president might give the world a bad politician and take from the world its greatest musician.

D. R. RAYNOLDS, engineer: If Toscanini has the qualifications necessary for handling the position of president, then he would be as good a choice as any other active Italian anti-Fascist. But wouldn't a man more grounded in politics and economics be better qualified?

Gideon Planish

By Sinclair Lewis

XXXIV

NEXT door to the log-and-stone chalet where Teckla and her father lived all year round, was the Virginia mansion of President Bull, where Dr. Planish was staying.

It was the morning of Presentation Day, and T. Austin Bull and he were already in doctoral robes, very gloomy and priestly and proper. But a catastrophe threw down all this majesty.

The small cat of the youngest Bull granddaughter scrambled up a tree, and was too scared to come down. There was a domestic flurry. The President, with his robe flapping, tried with a bamboo fishing pole to guide the kitten out on a branch that hung low. The four grandchildren capered round and round the tree, screaming; the President's two daughters, and Teckla Schaum, from next door, stood watching, comfortable and amused, while Mrs. Bull leaned from one upstairs window, and the young colored maid from another, ironically cheering.

Suddenly Dr. Planish was home-sick for precisely the place where he was; suddenly it was unendurable to think of going back to the city that was an hourly futility and a yearly defeat.

There loomed up a former neighbor, bearing a lofty ladder and bawling, "You boys got great minds but no sense. It's a good thing I never went to college. Now let a real man get at that cat!"

"You're right," agreed the two doctors, as the farmer began to climb, the kitten to swear, and the children to sing, "At that cat—that fat cat—catch that cat!"

Then Teckla said to a young Gideon, "Now you're happy. It's the first time here that I've seen you and woman who never learn to be expert husbands and wives. They stay rank amateurs to the end."

Not even the most optimistic could expect a business to prosper if there was no co-operation between the partners and if they fought each other over every issue and plan, but in half the families you know there is no teamwork between husbands and wives. They pull against each other all the time and that is why so many marriages end in bank o'ey.

Everywhere else except in marriage men and women realize that if they wish to make success of their affairs they must learn to compromise with each other and to get along with them in peace and harmony. But in marriage only too many husbands and wives make no effort to sell themselves to each other, and make their homes a perpetual battle-ground rather than yield an inch of their prejudices and authority. Yet nowhere else are the rewards of the appeal so great as they are in the family circle.

So when you consider the stupidity with which most of us face the domestic problem, it is not strange that divorce is so common. The marvel is that it isn't universal.

CURIOUS WORLD

"All noble souls, yet often I feel as if I wanted to give them all up and be back in this peaceful world of scholarship," he sighed.

"That's because you've been away a long time. You forget how they do read, and they know the modern way," said old Eakins, professor emeritus.

Dr. Planish was not even sure that Eakins was impressed by his inside news about what the British Army was planning in the way of future aircraft. "Some of these old devils out here are horribly out of touch with the world," he thought.

He noted that since his time here, the Doctoring and Professoring of the faculty members had thinned out. Even that stickler Austin Bull preferred to be called just mister. Dr. Planish was worried for a time. Was the whole country turning against its honorable titled leaders? Then it seemed to him that for a while it might be pleasant to quit going around Doctoring, and be plain Mr. Planish.

And just once say to the Colonel, "Hey you, Marduc!"

When the learned crew was gone, and Teckla had unexpectedly kissed him and bolted away, Austin Bull patted his shoulder and said gravely:

"Gid, a year from now I shall retire. How would you like to be president of Kinnikinnick? I think when you left here, I said some very ill-advised things to you and about you. I realize now that I was jealous. I'm all for you as president, and I know some of the trustees are. It's a possibility at least. What do you say?"

"That's splendid of you. I'm very grateful. I'll have to think about it."

"You won't need to decide till next fall."

"I'll think quick and hard—Mr. Bull!"

And he did have to think hard, for he was seeing, all at once, a kitten up a maple tree, the amused face of a bare-legged Colonel Marduc's countenance, the pipe-smoke in President Bull's little study, 20,000 admiring people at a rally in Madison Square Garden, and Peony's lips that could pout for kissing or square themselves in rage.

He was thinking that, aside from Carrie, he loved nobody at all save Peony, that he was devastatingly lonely for Peony this moment, and that Providence had used his loyalty to her—the one lone virtue he had ever had—to destroy him.

He sat in his stateroom, on the train to New York, thinking that if he became president of Kinnikinnick, he would make less money than at DDD; when he traveled, he would have only a lower berth, and not a Pullman compartment. And there was difficulty in that he had now forgotten whatever he might once have known about literature, history and every other branch of learning in which it was not enough to roll out. "We are called upon to bear the heat and fatigue of the struggle," and you had to mix some dates and figures with the oratory. Then he snapped back at himself. All right! He'd meet the challenge. He'd read a book again. He'd look up his old text-books, and read them. He was only 50. By the time

Points for Parents

By EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Mother: "Billie has picked up some bad words from older boys who pass the yard. He doesn't know what they mean and will forget them quicker if we don't notice them."

Small children are prone to repeat anything that brings an exciting reaction from their elders.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

With all of the talk about well parents bringing well children into the world we know—though we hate to admit it—that just as there are inexpressible imperfections in all of nature there are also deformities on innocent babies.

Such a happening is a tragedy to the parents. Yet, it is the parents who can prevent such deformities and differences being tragic and unbearable to the child. Parents who write me now there is nothing I can tell about the child himself, but they know also that what they need is to achieve a philosophy of living which shall be happily influential to the child.

For the baby who is born deaf, blind, with missing or mis-shaped hands, ears, feet, arms, legs, etc., takes his cue from his parents. Is he really awful? Or is he just trivially different from others? Either the parental attitude will make him utterly miserable because of his difference, or he will live with them as if they were immaterial.

The child born with handicaps learns to compensate for them as older persons deprived of useful members late in life cannot do. One arm can be as deft as two, if all one has ever had is one arm. Feet can be trained to be as useful as hands. And there is always, to comfort one, plastic surgery to work miracles upon mis-placed, mis-shaped, or missing organs.

It is the parent who must restrain himself so she does not suffocate this child—for whom she has so much sympathy—with a strained, unnatural and selfish love.

The child needs an explanation of his differences so he may know there are thousands of variations in nature. He should understand that in the complex division of millions of cells before birth some little thing may go wrong and cause a deformity. Nature has a perfect pattern but does not always follow it.

Every parent will give her child every advantage of education for the handicapped in private, endowed or public institutions. For the greatest tragedy of all is for the child to be isolated from persons of his own age, to be denied companionship even if it means competition and lead a cramped, bitter, unhappy life catered to by devoted parents.

It is this situation which the parent must determine shall not happen. There must be a placid acceptance of the child's handicaps—so that he too may accept them—which will be the hardest job parents will have to do. They can't afford, for the child's sake, to indulge in self-pity.

Our leaflet, "Help to be had from Books," covers the unusual as well as the usual child. It may be had by sending a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper, requesting it.

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority

What makes Mrs. A. M. Sobel of New York a great bridge player? If you sit and watch her, the plays she makes seem perfectly natural, and therefore kibitzing her may even seem rather monotonous. But the keen student of the game appreciates how fast she thinks.

Let me give you an example of her fast thinking and the co-operation she gives her partner.

The whole key to this hand is that West must hold the four hearts to the jack but in order to do so, she cannot protect clubs and spades. East must be made to realize that he must protect those suits. On the third diamond, when East showed out, Mrs. Sobel (West) realized that she was going to be squeezed. Her first discard, therefore, was the queen of clubs, and on the fourth he was 55, he could again be as well-read as any of these undergraduates—almost.

Anyways, he had to. Why? The titter and Sherry Belden's jitter and Marduc's totalitarianism and the swoop of express elevators filled with sharp and twitching elbows. Philanthropists, Organizers, midnight perpetual-motion discussions of Conditions and Situations, and Winifred Homeward the Talking Woman. Was that a life?

When he came into the house on Charles street, Peony cried, "It's so sweet to see you back! I did miss you, even if I have been so busy. How're all the hicks in Kinnikinnick? Did they bore you to death? Never mind—we'll have a Real Time, a real New York evening tonight."

He said nothing whatever about a college presidency, or about returning to Kinnikinnick.

HEART MURMURS ARE NOT ALWAYS SERIOUS

Two leading medical men have recently attacked popular ideas about heart murmurs, pointing out that they are not always serious and sometimes mean absolutely nothing. Speaking of children, Dr. R. E. Glendy wrote in Hygieia magazine: "A large percentage of so-called heart murmurs are of absolutely no significance; many are of only minor importance and comparatively few are of serious consequences." Many people with heart murmurs have lived to old age. It is pointed out. So don't go on worrying over your heart murmurs; go to a good doctor and let him diagnose your case and tell you what it means.

McCoy Health Service
Insofar as the treatment of arthritis is concerned, I find that the one treatment capable of bringing about the most rapid results at the start is the fast on fruit juice. Generally after the first two or three days of the fast, the joint soreness will begin to go down.
Considerable judgment must be used in regard to the length of the fast. The average person is generally able to fast for 5 days with benefit. The overweight person may be fasted for 7 days or perhaps longer, with good results.
While much longer fasts may do a great deal of good I do not advise that a patient trying the fast at home without supervision undertake one of these long fasts for say 10 days or over. Each day of the fast, an enemal must be taken.
The diet following the fast is of great importance. The patient should be well balanced and should provide the nourishing elements the patient needs to improve his resistance, at the same time that it is kept simple enough to throw the least tax on the digestive system.
As a general rule the arthritis will get along best when using only a small amount of starch. The usual sugar should be omitted altogether for a time.
During an acute flare-up in chronic arthritis, the patient needs rest. Generally this is best taken in bed, or it may be taken partly in bed and partly in a chair. The application of heat will help to relieve the pain and soreness felt in the affected joints. Heat may be given by using a small "lamp" at home, baking the affected parts for 15 to 30 minutes once a day, in those cases where the pain is severe and using the lamp about 3 times a week in the less severe cases. When a diathermy treatment, as given in a doctor's office, is obtainable, this is often of value.
Massage is one of the most helpful adjuncts in the treatment of chronic arthritis which may be used.
Before massage is given it is a good plan to use heat. During acute soreness, as the affected joints should not be massaged at all, although other parts of the body may be massaged with benefit.
As the patient recovers, exercise must be taken, beginning with the lightest varieties and gradually increasing the amount of movement permitted. Exercise, wisely used, and taken at the right time, will do a great deal to prevent crippling.
Over-exercise is likely to be definitely harmful and the patient should be taught to watch carefully so that he does not exercise to the point where he is over tired, or where his pain is increased.
The following treatment is sometimes very helpful when there is much soreness in a joint: Rub a small quantity of synthetic oil of wintergreen on the joint and wrap carefully in several thicknesses of pure flannel bandages. The bandages should be about 2 inches wide and about 12 feet long. When the sore joint is bandaged, the thickness of the flannel will help to absorb the perspiration. The middle of the morning is a good time to use this particular treatment.

Nazis Throw Air Strength At Beachhead
By KENNETH DIXON
AT THE ANZIO-NETTUNO BEACHHEAD, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Allied pilots term German air- men here the toughest they have met in the entire Mediterranean campaign and they are meeting enemy planes in greater numbers than heretofore encountered in the Italian theatre.
German aces from other theatres have appeared. Their attacks have been stepped up from sneak raids and quick dashes over the lines to assaults in numbers reminiscent of the earlier part of the war.
LOSSES TERRIFIC
Despite terrific losses, German planes are being thrown at the beachhead again and again.
The same is true of the growing ground power which has been club- bing Allied troops in almost con- stant counter-attacks. Our own cas- ualties have been heavy, but in some sectors the enemy's losses have been so high that even veter- an combat officers are amazed at the apparent German willingness to spend so many lives to gain so little ground.
Everything points to one ob- vious conclusion—the German high command has ordered the beachhead knocked out regard- less of cost.
It seems probable that the full Nazi counter-offensive will be launched from the north in an at- tempt to cut through the British positions. If successful, a break- through to Anzio and Nettuno would entrap the remainder of the Allied forces.

U.S. Bombers Hit Frankfurt In Heavy Raid
By WALTER CRONKITE

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Amer- ican heavy bombers, striking at Germany for the second straight day today, hammered the arsenal and transport city of Frankfurt for the fourth time since Jan. 29, while other Allied bombers, covered by fighters, made a heavy attack on the French invasion coast.
Planes of all categories main- tained a "round-the-clock" assault on Nazi Europe with night Mos- quito bombers of the Royal Air Force stabbing into Western Ger- many and touching off the sirens in Berlin.
Fighters escorted formations of Flying Fortresses to Frankfurt, which 13 days ago rocked under a bombardment by a large daylight bombing force and has been the target for two other attacks since then.
LIGHT RESISTANCE
A medium to large force of For- tresses bombed Frankfurt last Tues- day. The big bombers met only token resistance from the German air force, in contrast with the in- tense battle the Nazis put up yester- day against a Fortress fleet attacking Brunswick.
Allied heavy and medium bombers, fighters and fighter- bombers today swarmed across the channel in the fourth straight day of intense attacks on northern France.
First accounts of the operations said only that four motored bom- bers attacked the Pas de Calais coastal strip of France. The med- ium bombers struck at unidentified mil- itary targets in northern France.

U.S. Planes Again Blast Wake Isle: Atolls Are Shelled

PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 11.—Amer- ican warships shelled two enemy held atolls in the Marshall Islands, and army and navy planes bombed Wake Island and pounded other Ja- panese bases in new attacks on a 1,000-mile Central Pacific front.
Announcement of the raids by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz yester- day indicated that American forces were in complete control of the Marshalls, and were bent on the systematic reduction of the encir- cled Japanese strongholds.

Saskatchewan Will Make Adjustments On Seed Advances
REGINA, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Premier W. J. Patterson announced in the Saskatchewan legislature yesterday that his government would make adjustments in the amounts paid by farmers, or still owing on 1938 seed grain advances. The ad- justment will go into effect almost immediately and will cost the province approximately $4,000,000.
In 1937 there was almost total crop failure in Saskatchewan. The farmers lacked seed in 1938 and the provincial government pur- chased and supplied to the farmers approximately 7,000,000 bushels of seed wheat at an average price of $1.41 per bushel, and 3,500,000 bushels of seed oats at an average price of 68 cents per bushel.

Prices Unsteady On Chicago Mart

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Rye prices dropped slightly at a cent at one time today, going to new lows since mid-January, but a mild rally late in the session cancelled part of the loss. The weakly in the unsettled wheat and oats, although losses in the latter two grades were never large and they rallied toward the close.
Selling in rye at the outset came mainly from commission houses, but it was notable that local professional traders were selling to give the market much aggressive support.
Wheat closed 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, oats were unchanged to 1/4 lower, rye was down 1/2, and barley was 1/4 lower.
Oats: May 1.70, July 1.67 1/2, Sept. 1.66 1/2, Dec. 1.66 1/2.
Barley: May 1.21, July 1.19 1/2, Sept. 1.18 1/2, Dec. 1.18 1/2.

MY DAY
NEW YORK.—Yesterday was an exciting day. I have seen coast defense men who are in remote places informed on what is happening in the world once a week. I found that a board of newspaper publishers had given them an award as the best army newspaper. One of their features is an amusing comic strip, in which the main character does everything in the wrong way, and he serves to teach the readers how to behave in the right way. They had some excellent covers, bearing from a military review baby to a picture of my husband which I do not think is one of his best.
After leaving the headquarters where we got the general picture, we visited several of the installations—from searchlights to anti-aircraft batteries. There was a time when captive balloons were used as part of the defense. That time is past, but I had seen those on the west coast and know how they were operated.
A half hour at home, and I went off with the navy to see the merchant marine gun-crews in their headquarters in Brooklyn. I was glad to meet the whole crew of a battleship, four of whom had come to see me in Washington. Many of them wear pre-Pearl Harbor ribbons as well as other insignia denoting service in different theatres of the war. These boys on merchant ships probably see a greater variety of places than the boys in the regular navy who are usually assigned to one area and stay there for a considerable time.
At one time this branch of the service had the greatest number of casualties, but now both the enemy under-sea craft and the enemy planes seem to be pretty well under control and in an ever widening area. I pinned on medals and handed out commendations to some of the men at a very formal ceremony, and was particularly glad to have this opportunity of seeing so many of them who are in port waiting for their next assignment.

Repercussions On McNaughton Seen in States

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(CP)—The Chicago Daily News, in a copyright story by Victor Gordon Lennox, said yesterday that "Lt. Gen. Andrew (Andy) G. L. McNaughton's refusal to endorse the Canadian government's announcement that he has given up command of Canada's forces in Britain because of 'prolonged ill health' promises to provoke a parliamentary debate in Ottawa with possible intra-commonwealth repercussions unless Premier W. L. Mackenzie King acts with courage and frankness."

Lennox, a war correspondent formerly stationed in Britain, wrote:

"A dramatic aspect concerns McNaughton's relations with Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commander of the British invasion ground forces. Several months ago the British press carried rumors that McNaughton would be retired because he could not see eye to eye with Montgomery."

"Now that public discussion seems inevitable, it seems possible that Mackenzie King will tear to shreds the rumor that long credited him with attaching a special condition to the sending of Canadian troops to Britain—that the troops should be employed only for defence of the British Isles or for French Liberation via a western invasion."

"It may now appear that the real obstacle to Canadian troops being sent to other theatres was none other than McNaughton. He is said to have had an overwhelming personal ambition to build up a single Canadian army in Britain under his own command and to have opposed every suggestion that these battle-hungry warriors be sent to more active theatres."

City Land Sales Reach High Mark

Thirty-five parcels of land were sold by the city land department between Feb. 1 and Feb. 11 for a total gross purchase price of $38,255 to place this month well ahead of the same month last year, according to John Paterson, superintendent of the land department.

Sale of the Fraser block, immediately adjoining the Hart block on Jasper avenue east, for $16,000 was completed Thursday. Purchasers are Alex F. McDonald and Elwood J. Spinnery.

Of the 36 sales made, 17 were to purchasers desiring to erect dwellings. The average cost of the homes will be $3,000.

The Crown Paving and Construction Company purchased property on 104 avenue and C.N.R. tracks between 119 and 120 streets for future yard space. The price was listed at $5,670. The Mutual Lumber Co. made a purchase of land for extension of the company's south side lumber yard.

A former Saskatchewan resident purchased land on the south side of Jasper avenue immediately east of 123 street on which it is proposed to erect a $20,000 apartment house.

R.C.A.F. Sergeant Gets Fine, Prison On Serious Charge

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11.—(CP)—Donald W. Chalmers, 30, Royal Canadian Air Force sergeant, was fined $1,000 and sentenced to three months' imprisonment when convicted on a charge of selling denatured alcohol. On a charge of being in possession of denatured alcohol which he failed to label "poison," he was given another month's imprisonment. In default of payment of the fine he will serve an additional six months.

Flash Bulb 'Misbehaves' At Unveiling Ceremonies

It was a sheer accident, but a more emphatic conclusion to a ceremony could hardly be imagined than one which took place at the Legislative Buildings Thursday afternoon.

The occasion was the unveiling of the late Premier William Aberhart's portrait on the floor of the Legislative Assembly chambers, after the conclusion of the opening session of the 1944 Legislature.

Premier Ernest Manning had concluded a brief eulogy of the late premier, and the Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, was drawing back a drape concealing Mr. Aberhart's portrait. Just as Mr. Fallow had the drape completely drawn, the photographer, officially recording the ceremony, snapped his camera. . . and his flashbulb exploded in a blinding blast.

The explosion caused many a spectator's heart to skip a beat. Before some had realized what had happened, the photographer had picked up the remains of his volatile lamp, and was standing with the onlookers, apparently unconcerned.

Press photographers say it only happens once in five hundred flashes, but that 500th time is seemingly always at some notable function, with the hapless cameraman literally a front-rank performer.

Before the Magistrate

Margaret Bilan, whose name appeared in the police court news Thursday, is not Marjorie Bilan of Ross Creek, Alta.

Emile G. Goudreau, Beaumont district farmer, found guilty of dangerous driving Thursday afternoon by Magistrate Harold L. Howe, K.C., was fined $25 or 30 days. Application to have the case appealed was filed immediately.

Goudreau was charged after an accident New Year's Eve, at Loo, Ma, while returning to his home.

Twelve offenders of the Highway Traffic Act pleaded guilty to the charges against them, when they appeared before Magistrate Harold L. Howe, K.C., on Thursday afternoon. All paid the cash penalties.

John Robinson pleaded guilty to being a vagrant and begging on the street, but thought he could get out of town within 24 hours if given the chance. The charge was granted and he was placed on six months suspended sentence and his own bond of $100.

Charge of dangerous driving, preferred against James Strachan, was dismissed. There was not enough evidence to justify a conviction, said the magistrate. The charge arose out of an accident on Jan. 29 last, at 97 street and 95 avenue.

Misses Machine

Theft of an electric valve grinder from the Saskatoon Welding Shop, 9623 102 avenue, sometime within the last few days, was reported to police Thursday by R. D. Cramer, proprietor.

FUNNY BUSINESS

Leagues Planning Re-Zoning Study

A plan for the re-zoning of the city to provide more parks for recreational purposes was discussed by the Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues at a meeting Thursday evening in the Civic Block.

The discussion arose from a letter written by Cecil S. Burgess, chairman of the zoning committee, Edmonton Town Planning Commission, to the Federation. The letter will be considered.

Ben Hager in trying to further interest in the ward system of civic government, stated, "We talk about going to Europe to fight for democracy while at the same time we haven't even got a democratic government in Edmonton." He urged the representatives to take this thought back to their own communities and come prepared to take part in an open forum on this matter.

A Cromdale representative asked support of the league in going to the city about the open dumps in Cromdale and other districts. It was pointed out that open dumps can be the source of disease. A committee including Lloyd Wood, John Moor and A. MacKay will take this matter up with city council.

A by-law regarding glass, nails, wire and tacks on the streets which may cause injury to pedestrians as well as to vehicles and car drivers, was read by Mr. Hager and a suggestion made to amend its wording whereby it will be the duty of some designated person to pick up the fragments of glass from the street. A motion was passed authorizing the civic committee to meet the city council and discuss the situation.

The sports committee drew attention of the younger citizens of Edmonton to the skating races to be held on Feb. 19 at 3:30 p.m. at the 119 street rink. For further information contact W. T. Arnett at 84478, T. L. Walters at 32865, or George Bowen at 21784.

The committee instructed the city commissioners to take the necessary steps to prohibit the feeding of pigeons on the square, and recommended also that the pigeons be destroyed. Methods to be employed for the destruction of the birds will be left to the city police and the city pound keeper, but it is probable that they will be trapped.
